FIFTEEN CENTS

Community Center Planned

By BETSY ROSSEN

Plans are continuing for a new community center in Antioch.

On Monday night, the village board authorized Mayor Robert Wilton to sign a local public works capital development grant application for the project.

Officials are optimistic about Antioch's chances to receive funds.

Before the regular board meeting Mike Sutter, architect for the project, showed trustees plans drawn of the center.

The building, to be constructed only if the village receives the $1 million grant to cover all costs, would be located directly east of the Williams Park tennis courts and off Corona Ave. Estimated capacity is 500 persons.

Deadline for grant applications to the state is Dec. 1. The mayor says the village is hoping to hear of the state's decision by the first of next year.

WILTON REPORTED that McDonald's restaurant representatives are concerned that their standard sign to be erected at their new store franchise on Orchard St. is in violation of the village sign ordinance.

Trustees recommended that the representatives appear before the zoning board of appeals.

Walter Shephard, superintendent of public works, says that the corporation's permit, now with the village engineer, will not be held up.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE spokesman Bill Patterson and Jack Siegmeier expressed dissatisfaction with the present parking situation with the village, singling out the area of Lake and Main streets.

Safety committee chairman Ron Cunningham assured the businessmen that both a towing ordinance and applications for an additional village employee to check meters and offending vehicles are under consideration. The men were told to expect increased surveillance within a month.

UPON THE RECOMMENDATION of village engineer Frank Angelotti, Stannard Power Equipment Co. was awarded the contract for diffused air equipment at the wastewater treatment plant. Their bid totaled $12,142.

New Township Building Has Final OK

"We received final permits from the village this week and now have the go-ahead on construction," says Lloyd E. Murrie, Antioch township supervisor about the new township building.

Several weeks ago the village had issued partial permits; Friday, approval was given for the entire project. In the meantime the foundation was poured while the township and the village engineer "ironed out some wrinkles," according to Murrie.

THE SITE on Rt. 173 is directly east of Antioch Firestone and north of Lyons-Ryan Ford-Lincoln-Mercury. Building dimensions are 40 ft. by 75 ft., yielding 3,000 sq. ft. of space to be used by the supervisor, town clerk and assessor.

In addition, a meeting room is planned with a 50-person capacity. The township intends to make this available to various organizations.

Architectural work was done by Anderson Rehder Yandre, Inc. of Waukegan. Frank Benes

You may not agree with Ronald Reagan. But you'll want to read his column each Wednesday. People will be talking about it all week.

Construction Co. is the general contractor for the block and brick construction.

ALTHOUGH TOWNSHIP OFFICIALS had initially hoped for completion Feb. 1, they are now looking to an April moving day.

Costs for the building are estimated at $100,000, all of which will be paid by federal revenue sharing funds.

WORK OF new township facilities began two years ago at the annual town meeting when electors voted for the acquisition of property and construction of a new building.

Murrie explains that the move is necessary because the office has "outgrown" its space requirements. He says that Antioch and Newport are the only Lake County townships without their own town halls.

Another reason for the change is the need for more private office space. This need is felt especially when talking over problems with township residents, the supervisor commented.

THE PRESENT TOWNSHIP office is located next to the police station in the municipal building. 1970 census figures state the township population is about 13,000.

It Wasn't a Traditional Campaign

In a presidential election campaign, two things usually happen: campaign managers and candidates strive mightily to "peak" just before election day; and voter opinion crystallizes. This year, both traditions stood on their heads.

Rather than peaking, it was a case of plunging - then climbing back - for both candidates. It seemed to be a question of who would make the last - and possible fatal - mistake before Tuesday's showdown.

Voter preference, rather than crystallizing, was softening. National polls within showed Carter and Ford losing support in about equal amounts to "Undecided."

THE VOTERS WERE UNEASY. At every stop,

Jimmy Carter talked about "leadership," as if constant invocation of the word would bring the mantle to his shoulders. Though many of his crowds were warm and responsive, there was nothing of the "electricity" that reporters look for as a sure sign of a strong campaign finish.

President Ford, on the other hand, stressed the fact that we are at peace and that the economy is improving, however slightly.

The Democrats out-registered the Republicans by about four million this fall, but there was little evidence to suggest white-heat fervor among their campaign workers.

President Ford overcame a whopping early lead by Carter (some 30 points were whittled down to within what the pollsters call "the realm of statistical error"), but about the time of the second debate he ran into a series of buzzsaws: Watergate questions, his Grand Rapids campaign funds, old golf dates with businessmen, the Butz remark, the General Brown remark and his own Eastern Europe comments.

Later polls indicated that the latter didn't do him permanent harm with American of Central and Eastern European descent, but at the time he made them Carter seized on the remarks as a dog would a piece of red meat.

CARTER, FOR HIS PART, was not able to shake the vague uneasiness voters got from what they called his "fuzziness," coupled with qualms about his air of moral certitude, the Playboy interview and his LBJ "lying" remark.

Carter seemed alternately to promise extensive new social programs called for in his party's platform and a balanced budget. Ford seemed to promise more of what we've been having: an executive branch and Congress balanced off in a kind of dynamic tension.

With large numbers of voters disinterested and others volatile, hard-and-fast predictions were impossible to make.

Ford and Carter went into Tuesday's election with little idea of what the voters would do.

Message From Mayor Wilton

To The Citizens of Antioch:

As Mayor of Antioch, I am happy to learn that the Pearl Harbor Survivor's Association, Chapter 1 of Illinois, has selected Antioch as its site for its next meeting, to be held Saturday, Nov. 13, at the Loyal Order of the Moose Club Lodge.

This National Association is composed of all servicemen stationed in Hawaii on the Day of Infamy, Dec. 7, 1941. Co-sponsors of the meeting are Wally Koziol and Wes Bolt, who were United States Marines stationed at Kaneohe Bay, Hawaii, and both are members of the Pearl Harbor Survivor's Association.

Sincerely yours,
Robert C. Wilton Mayor

For 75c You Can Learn Enough Karate to ? ?

By JERRY PFARR

Two new restaurants are coming to town, to help people get fatter, but maybe what this community needs is a karate studio ... to get us in shape.

Lacking such a facility, I decided to investigate this sensational system of self defense by buying a book.

I found one for 75c (marked down from $4.95 for some strange reason) and the title is, "Super Karate Made Easy."

IT'S ADVERTISED as "$250 worth of instructions" but at the moment I'm merely hoping to get my 75c worth before someone attacks me.

The book promises that, if I know karate, I can floor a powerful brute with one swift, crippling thrust. (But I really hope that no powerful brute tries me out.)

WE KARATE PEOPLE, you understand, strike only in self defense. The book says it is an old Japanese art that will quickly teach me "how to instinctively rout any surprise attack by street punks, barroom toughs or sidewalk wise guys who insult your girl."

"Suppose you're walking with a female companion," this great little book says, "and she is insulted by a tough-looking hood. The roughneck is about 6 feet 4 inches tall, has big sinewy arms and uses profanity that would make even a tough Marine sergeant blush! What do you do? ... (Run, and let her fend for herself? No!) ... with a knowledge of karate you turn your hands, feet and elbows into powerful weapons, instantly! ... You can be frail, even sickly ... (By Jove, this book IS for me! ...) but you pack TNT in your hand, if used according to the ancient karate principles ..."

WHAT ARE SOME of the secrets of karate? Well, I'm just getting into the book, but maybe I can save you 75c and let you in on a few of them.

These tricks may sound nasty to you but, keep in mind, luckily for people walking the streets, we karate guys use them only in self defense.

For example, there is the "single finger thrust," for striking your opponent in one eye, and the "two finger thrust" for giving him a quick sharp stab in both eyes. (We karate men strengthen our fingertips by thrusting our hand into a box of gravel about 20 times a day. Since I'm new at it, I'm bleeding pretty badly around the fingernails and knuckles these days.)

THEN, OF COURSE, there is "the hook," in which the hand is shaped like a clamp or hook and directed at one of the most vulnerable parts of the human body - the Adam's apple.

According to my book, "use the hook and it's applesauce for your opponent!"

(Okay, it's a lousy joke, but the book only cost 75c.)

I CAN TELL that you've had enough already, so I won't go into "the knife hand," "the claw," "the choker," "the grind," or "the knee smash."

All of these frightening secrets are bound to make us karate students pretty dangerous, as I see it, except for one thing.

Since the art is becoming so widespread in this country, how are we supposed to know whether our attacker is just a big, dumb bully or a guy who read a book that cost $1.50?

Strengthening fingertips by thrusting hand into box of gravel.

BAND PLANS CITRUS SALE - The Antioch High School band and chorus is planning its second annual citrus sale from Saturday, Nov. 13, through Sunday, Nov. 21. Money raised will help send the band and choir to summer music camp. Among those who participated in last year's sale were (from left) Chris Lindberg, Patti Thamerus and Mike Brady.

ACHS Band To Sell Oranges, Grapefruit

Each summer in August, both the Antioch High School band and choir travel to Bloomington for one week of intensive rehearsal and drill.

The band prepares for its fall football shows and the choir for its upcoming concerts.

In order to lower the cost of the camp and enable more students to participate, the students will be selling ruby red grapefruit and Texas sweet oranges throughout the community.

"We hope that you take advantage of this fabulous opportunity to help today's young people in their efforts - while you enjoy the delicious fresh tasting fruits of their labor. This citrus fruit makes a great gift for the upcoming holidays," said John Olisar, band director.

The students will be selling the citrus on a door-to-door basis for two weekends, Nov. 13-14 and Nov. 20-21.

If you are not contacted during this time and still wish to order some fruit, there will be order blanks in local newspapers.

"The members of the band and choir would like to thank you for your continued support and wish everyone a very happy, healthy and delicious holiday season," Olisar said.

"We confess to having reservations about Carter, chiefly because like everybody else we have no clear idea where he stands," the News-Sun said. Yet it endorsed him for President of the United States.

The News-Sun said Carter's campaign was based largely on trust, and a few fetching slogans. Yet it endorsed him to run our country.

Lake Villa Eases Water, Sewer Fee

Lake Villa homeowners will get a break on next summer's water and sewer bills.

The village board voted last Wednesday to approve a new watering allotment ordinance.

During June, July and August, residents will pay the minimum water and sewer fee for the first 9,000 gallons; however, they will pay for water only on the next 10,000 gallons.

The new ruling is designed to give a more equitable rate on water not treated through the sewer system, specifically that used for watering lawns and washing cars.

THE TRUSTEES also accepted the plan commission recommendation that 20 parcels of land be annexed to the village. They will take a final vote after arrangements have been drawn up for the land.

The annexation would include Cedar Lake Rd. from the southern village limits to the Avon Township line.

MAYOR TED NIELSEN was authorized to sign the "step two" design grant application. The grant would aid Lake Villa's project for rehabilitation of the sanitary system and construction of a relief sewer for the southern portion of the village.

of the project, has been completed.

Plans Being Made For Channel

By JENNIE LIPMAN

Results of last week's membership meeting included the decision to increase the annual association dues to $15. Plans to dredge the channel and hire beach security guards are in the making.

In the two months since I have been writing this column only two people have called with news items, but the week of Oct. 13 (when I prematurely announced the membership meeting) I had many calls questioning my error. I am glad you read my articles but please call with news, too. Once again, I'm sorry for the error. I hope it didn't cause anyone to go uptown unnecessarily.

OUR MANY THOUGHTS are with the Renfro family on the loss of their husband and father, Joseph Renfro Jr., who passed away on Oct. 15.

We also send our condolences to Doris and Joe Veith on the recent death of her father.

Get well wishes are sent to Phil Langhof Jr., who is home with pneumonia. We're happy to report that Clem Muresan is well on his way to recovery.

We are also thinking of Joe Sheehan who was hospitalized for testing in a Milwaukee hospital.

CONGRATULATIONS TO Dorothy and Robert Dixon on the birth of their 5th grandchild, Brann Michael, born to Sue and Lyle Ferris on Oct. 16. Little Brann weighed 6 lbs., 10 ozs. at birth. Just as happy, I'm sure, are fraternal grandparents, Agnes and Charles Ferris, also of Antioch.

Jeff Camphouse is a participant in the youth bowling league. Congratulations to Jeff on his Oct. 16 high game and high series. Other Oakwood Knolls boys involved in the youth bowling league are Bob Hubbard and Ken Redlin.

OAKWOOD KNOLLS RESIDENTS and anyone, I'm sure, who knows of the services of Ella Cerny, 441 Linden Lane, is proud of her for all the contributions she has made to society.

Mrs. Cerny, who is in her 80s, is an active member of the American War Mothers, St. Peter's Mother's Club, and the Veteran's Administration Volunteer Services.

In May, Mrs. Cerny was chosen "Mother of the Year" in connection with St. Peter's Mother's Club.

We wish to congratulate her on her recent trip to Washington D.C., where she was commended for her 25 years of volunteer work as a member of the Veteran's Administration Volunteer Services.

Mrs. Cerny is very proud of the award she received in Washington, which beautifully thanked her for her concern for the comfort and welfare of the sick and disabled veterans. For the past 25 years she has loyally and faithfully attended 90 percent of the meetings. She has made monetary donations, in addition to crocheting, knitting and sewing articles for the benefit and profit of the veterans at Heinz Veteran Hospital.

Mrs. Cerny is interested in recruiting young members. Anyone wishing to know more about volunteer work can call her at 395-2545.

CONGRATULATIONS TO Renee Petykowski on being elected secretary of 1976-77 Girl Scout troop. Keep us up to date on Girl Scout happenings, okay, secretary?

We see that our Sue Koppa tied for first and second place in football contests sponsored by the Antioch News.

State Bank Has Its Annual Halloween Fun

Customers coming into the State Bank of Antioch last Saturday couldn't be blamed if they were either frightened or amused, or thought for a moment that they had walked into the wrong place.

Most of the employees had reported for work in outstanding Halloween costumes.

Imagine walking up to a bank teller's station and being greeted by this delightful person. Behind the beard and the pipe is a delightful person ... Phyllis Kapischke.

Florence Babusek had a cool costume in which to work ... a cheerleading outfit complete with pom-poms.

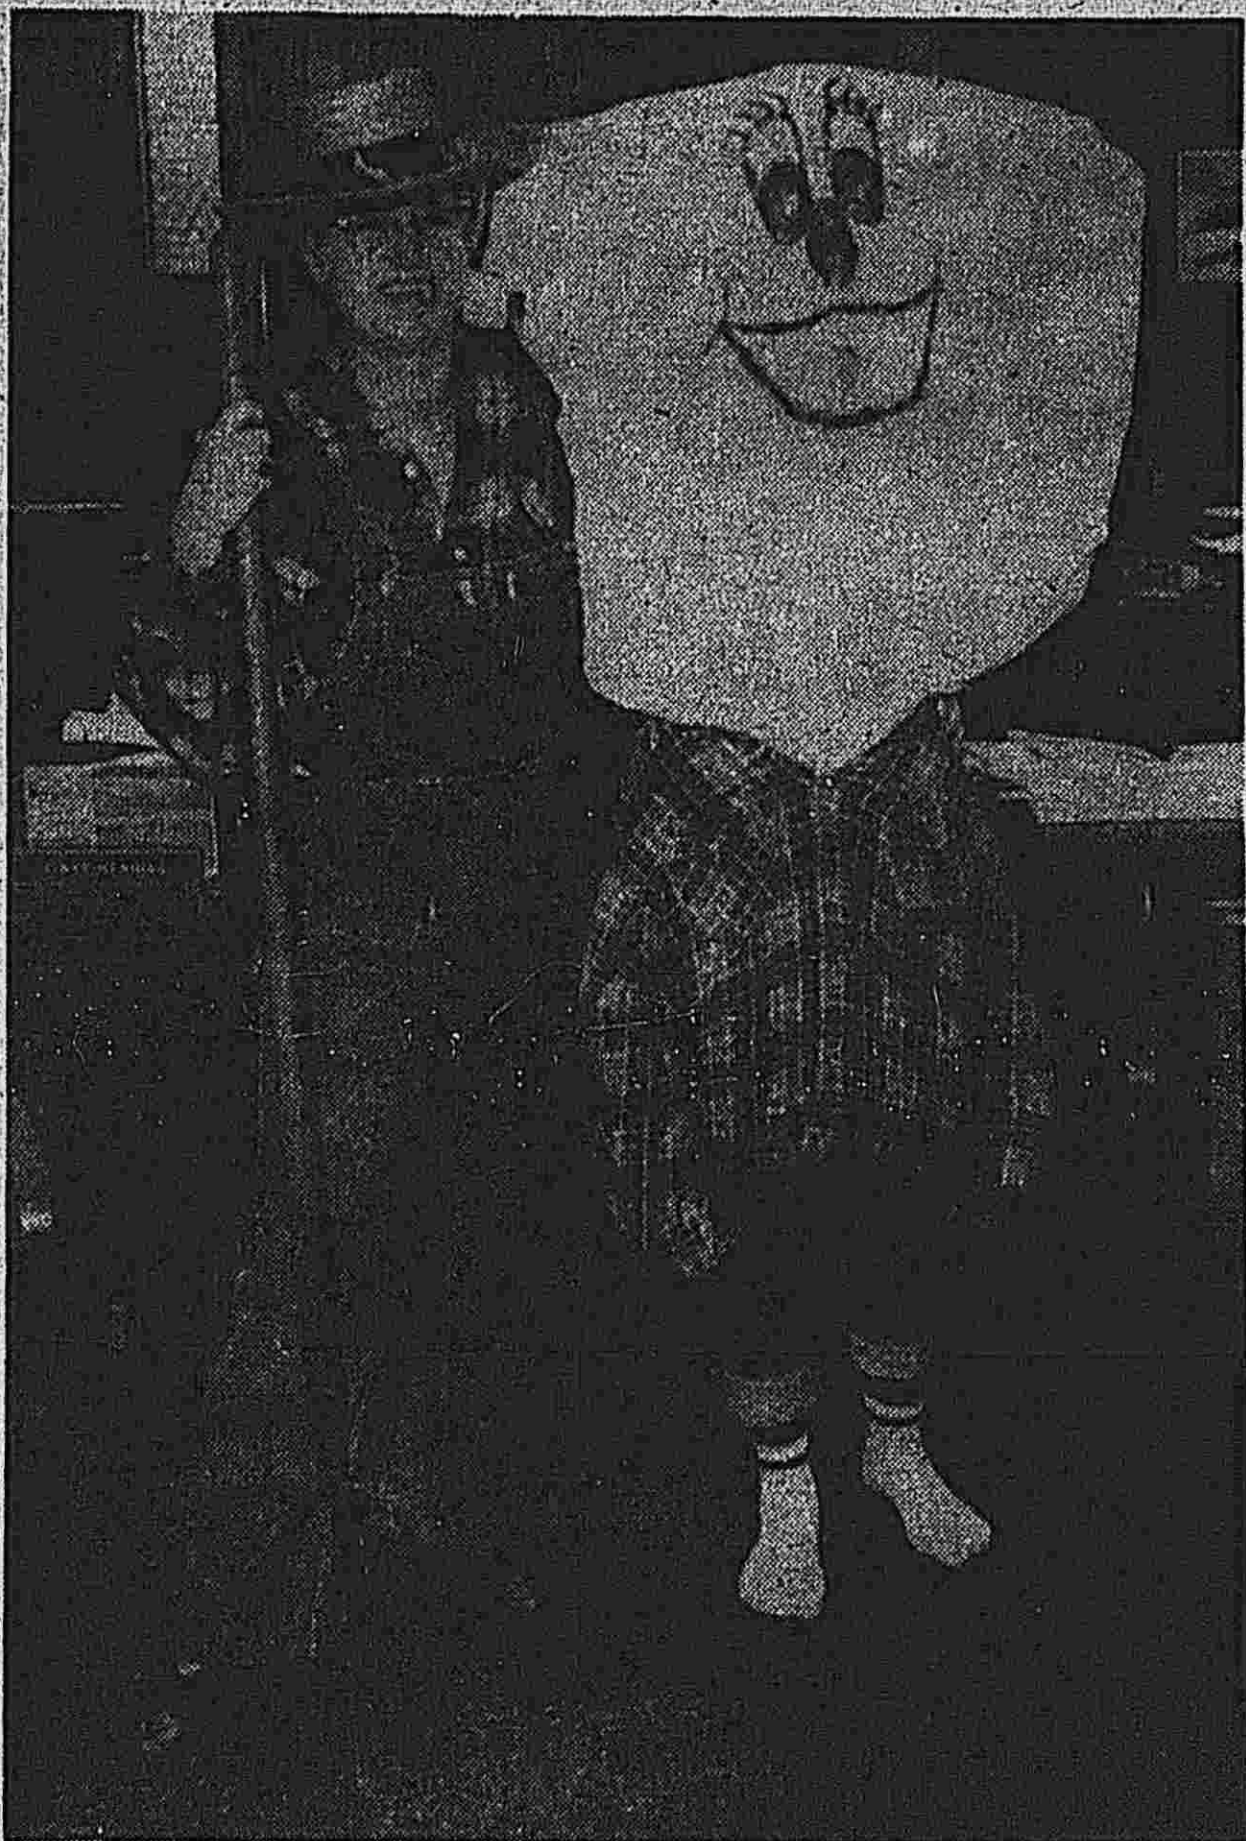

Remember these hilarious characters from "Laugh-In"? They were cleverly recreated for Halloween by Monica MacDonald (left) and Debbie Aerne.

You didn't have to open a new account at the State Bank last Saturday, but Sheila Linker's pirate pistol was an "encourager."

One of our favorite costumes at the State Bank last Saturday was this concoction of Carolyn Bartlett.

The Same Language?

By BETSY ROSSEN

"Care for a biscuit?"

"No, but I would like a cookie."

So it went for this American among many Australians last summer in Papua New Guinea, the eastern half of the island just north of the land "down under."

THE KITCHEN was the scene for much confusion of terms. Ever tasted marmalade or preserves on your toast? In the evening, I'm rather fond of cheese and crackers or other such savouries. I don't mean to be cheeky, but do you know the difference between jelly (gelatin in American) and jam (jelly)?

Mealtime is opportunity to learn different customs as well as terms. For Australians, dinner, tea and supper correspond to our lunch, dinner and dessert. Consequently, it became vital to find out and inform my stomach of the meal to expect. Incidentally, the serving of supper, whether immediately after tea or after talking for a while, is their way of telling guests, "It's time to leave!"

MANY PHRASES were reasonable to my foreign ears. When I wanted to buy hamburger, I checked the freezer for mince. When the automobile gauge registered "empty," my friends filled up on petrol. For swimming, I wore a one-piece bather. When walking at night, I usually carried a torch (flashlight).

HOWEVER, SOME EXPRESSIONS could make me go around the bend - oops, I mean they drove me up the wall.

Imagine my shock when one of my co-workers inquired into the whereabouts of a guillotine. Upon reviving, I found out she was looking for the paper cutter.

And when an Aussie says a cozy fireplace is very homely, he means it as a compliment.

As a journalist, I had a constant struggle to suppress my frustration over British lexicography. But whilst learning the flavour of their speech, one realises many words are spelt differently.

LEST I BE CALLED too one-eyed, I must share what this excursion into Australianese taught me.

Different means just that: not wrong but of another kind. I was reminded during the Fourth of July celebration that we broke away from the commonwealth and not vice versa.

After all, is shower "head" any more logical than shower "rose"?

'Amahl' Comes to Antioch

The Fool's Players, the group that brought "Jesus Christ Superstar" to Antioch last spring, is putting the final touches on their latest production, "Amahl and the Night Visitors," directed by Ken Smouse of Antioch.

Amahl is played by Tim Collins of Mundelein and his mother is played by Tim's teacher Mary Chris La Kome of Lake Zurich (Mary Magdalene "Superstar"). Bill Serhson, Wayne Sobczak, and Ken Smouse are the three kings; Tim Holm is the page.

Gian-Carlo Menotti, the composer of "Amahl," says that this is an opera for children because in it he tries to recapture his own childhood.

In the story, set almost two thousand years ago, a little crippled shepherd boy, Amahl, sees a wonderful star. His mother, distraught by their poverty, does not believe him and puts him to bed. During the night three kings and their page stop at the cottage of Amahl for shelter.

In the course of events, the kings explain about the child they are seeking. Amahl offers to give his most precious possession to the child. Amahl's unselfish gift brings about a miracle.

"Amahl and the Night Visitors" is a beautiful Christmas story. Begin your advent season by seeing it at 8 p.m. Nov. 12 or 13 at the Antioch Community High School auditorium. Tickets will be sold at the door. To be sure of a seat, make reservations by calling 395-2372 after 2 p.m.

"AMAH AND THE NIGHT VISITORS" an upcoming production by The Fool's Players, opening Nov. 12 at the Antioch Community High School auditorium. Pictured here are Amahl (Tim Collins) and his mother (Mary Chris La Kome).

The following ladies are in charge of committees: Bazaar Items, Kathleen Kane; Home Baked Goods, Cecile Mann and Genny Volpentesta; Kitchen, Genie Grass; Children's Games, Betty Rossi and

HAPPENINGS

Jeri Keane; Decorations, Els Gerritsen.

Santa will be back there along with an added attraction of the "Pocket Lady."

Mrs. Louise Janowiak chairlady of the bazaar is inviting everyone to come and have a good time.

4-H Warriors Start

The Sequoit Warriors 4-H club of Antioch held their first meeting of the 4-H fiscal year last Thursday at the First National Bank of Antioch and started off their eighth year as a club.

The meeting was held mainly to select officers and plan a yearly schedule. New officers are: Dan Lichter, president; Lisa Holmes, vice-president; Laura Miller, secretary; Jacque Larson, treasurer; and Jill and Susie Lichter and Peggy Ducommun, callers. The club is led by Carolyn Van Patten.

The 4-Hers were congratulated on the work they did at the Lake County Fair in July, and were notified that the county achievement night would be held at 7 p.m. Oct. 29 at the Lake County Farm Bureau building in Grayslake.

In attendance were 18 members who discussed the upcoming Lake County 4-H pancake breakfast and made advertising signs for the events.

The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. on Dec. 2.

iecki, first; Lena Mesage, second; Violet Feldmon, third; and Esther Aiani, fourth.

"We soon hope to have our center all dressed up in new drapes. We've had a piano donated to us and are very happy to have it," she added.

Ida said: "Our next 'Planning Day' will be the last Wednesday of the month. We are looking forward to a big turnout. We do need more ideas and volunteers. I wish to thank everyone for all the help they have given to their center. We are still having more new members every week. We wish to thank Wes and Miss Knott for all the delicious meals they send us each day."

Lake Villa Building Progresses

Work is progressing on Lake Villa's newest subdivision, located one block south of Grand ave. and west of Intermediate School.

John Waldenstrom is the builder for the project which will eventually include 37 houses and four duplexes.

SIX HOUSES and one duplex have been started. Blacktopping, roads and curbs are complete, with work now beginning on sidewalks.

Construction of the entire subdivision is scheduled over the next two to three years.

Some of the homes will be ready next January, says Waldenstrom.

PROPERTY OWNERS will have designed all the houses and duplexes in the subdivision.

The buildings will feature oak trim and pella windows. Brick, cedar and aluminum soffets, he says, offer a maintenance-free exterior.

A BUILDER HERE for the past 10 years, he has been a Lake County resident for 13 years. He came to America from Finland at the age of 14.

Water, Sewer Fees

Park storm drain. An 18-inch dip in the line was found to be the cause of seasonal flooding at the Grand Ave. and Oak Knoll Drive intersection.

Repairs are to begin soon on an emergency pumping station and connecting sewer line. The board voted to waive bids on 170 feet of line replacement and agreed to finish park restoration work in the spring.

THE BOARD gave its approval to building permits for the Zerkovich subdivision, the development, which will include prefabricated housing, is located south of Grand Ave. and east of the railroad tracks.

to the Editor

Dear Sir:

Why does the village allow four hours for trick-or-treating? Two hours would be plenty for children to tour their immediate neighborhood for handouts. The longer hours only insure that carloads of kids from out-of-town have time to invade Antioch.

It's especially hard on older people, who no sooner sit down than the doorbell rings again. For four hours there is no peace of mind. Also, it costs $5 or more to hand out the sweets that damage the teeth and health of the children. Fruit and nuts are too expensive, and children reject them anyway. Home-baked goods are work to make, and must be individually wrapped for sanitary reasons.

Two hours we can take, but not four! How about changing the hours next year? Maybe school could let out an hour early so we are not opening our door to who-knows-whom after dark.

This letter has to be anonymous, for obvious reasons. But please print it for other senior citizens, who are invited to make their views known, pro or con.

Thank you

WALDENSTROM SUBDIVISION is shaping up as one of Lake County's most beautiful developments. Designer-builder John Waldenstrom reports that, as these pictures indicate, blacktopping and curb work is complete on the lots, many of which are wooded.

Senior Jay Horton is among the 126 Southwest Texas University students who have been nominated for Gaillardian honors. Gaillardians — all-university favorites — are traditionally selected as a part of SWTSU's homecoming celebration.

Named after the Gaillardia, a flower native to the region, the honor is bestowed on six men and six women in formal presentation ceremonies held in conjunction with homecoming. They will not be announced until Friday, Nov. 5, during "Sounds of SWT," a musical revue and awards presentation program.

Gaillardians will share the Homecoming spotlight along with Distinguished Alumnus Award recipients, the Homecoming Queen, former Gaillardians and former L.B.J. and Sallie Beretta Award recipients.

John is a physical education major and is being sponsored by Southwest Salts. He is president of Salts Gymnastic Club and assistant coach for SWTSU women's gymnastics team.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Horton of Antioch.

A NEW SIGN AT THE VILLAGE HALL lists the names of contributors to Antioch's Hiram Buttrick sawmill restoration project. Admiring the sign are (from left) Bill Brook, chairman of the local bicentennial commission; Walt Shepard, superintendent of public works who is supervising the project, and Mayor Robert C. Wilton. There is still room on the sign for the names of individuals and groups making donations in the near future. The replica of the mill, built on Sequoit Creek in 1839, has been progressing steadily. Concrete forms are erected in the excavation; re-enforcing rods and concrete pouring is started. Shepard, reported his list of contributors grows daily. More help is still needed, however, and any villager or group of villagers interested in aiding in the reconstruction with their "time, talents or cash" is more than welcome. Sawing, hammering, laying the stonework, painting, digging, hauling, clearing and cleaning up are the areas where help is needed. For the 22-foot-high concrete form work for the foundation wall, contracted help was required. More 12-inch weathered barn siding and old hand hewed timbers are still needed. Weathered wood will cover the exterior sides of the wall sections, while new lumber, internally, will provide the required structural support. Old wood working tools, such as planes, broad axes, etc., could be displayed inside the finished mill if interested owners would donate them. Fabrication of the sawmill mechanism will be handled by Warren Polley's crew at the high school. Shepard feels it will be just as easy to make a working saw mill than a non-functioning unit and has set the target date for sawing the first board for July 4, 1977.

WELL-KNOWN Antioch residents Roy and Ida Kufalk celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at an open house at the Methodist Church.

Hosting the party were their children, Bob Kufalk of Byron and Verna Holem of Lake Villa.

Roy served as postmaster of the Antioch post office for more than 20 years and Ida taught at Channel Lake and Grass Lake schools. They're moving to Lakeland, Florida this week: we'll miss you, friends!

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY wishes also go to Henry and Jessie Rossen of Chicago. they will be celebrating their 56th on the 6th.

Elizabeth Walsh's 87th birthday is tomorrow, Nov. 4. The delightful lady who still works at the Antioch Restaurant, is the mother of village trustee Irv Walsh.

Received word this week from Sue Abderholden, a student in St. Paul, Minn., that her parents, Ed and Dolores, have birthdays in November. So we join her in wishing them a very happy day.

LOTS OF new parents and grandparents around here lately!

Shannon Marie was born Oct. 18 to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nehlsen of Lake Villa. The proud grandparents are the August Nehlsens of Antioch and the A.P. Chipmans of Redgranite, Wis.

We heard that after six grandsons, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hameau of Lakewood Drive finally have a granddaughter, Dina Lynn. Both the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Hart, and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hart, live in Round Lake.

Julie Ann Kumpfer made her debut Oct. 11, born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kumpfer of Gurnee. Her grandparents also live in Gurnee; Mr. and Mrs. Al Kumpfer and Mr. and Mrs. Lars Steffenburg.

Hear tell the Timothy Brueggemans, Richard Heigels and Gregory LaPlantes have new little daughters, too!

DID YOU SEE that sign in the window of the Antioch Carpet store on Main St. last week?

"It's a Boy!"

Dick and Mary Lou Ford were naturally proud of the arrival of their son, Jacob, who weighed 7 lb. 15½ oz. when he arrived Oct. 25 at Lake Forest.

"He's home and he's doing fine," Dick said yesterday. (With a name like Ford he could be President someday.)

Sequoits End Season at Grayslake

Get Past Jacobs 7-6

The 1976 Antioch High School football season comes to a close Saturday when the Sequoit varsity plays a 2 p.m. game at Grayslake.

A victory would give Coach Roy Nelson's team a 4-5 record for the season.

They boosted their record to 3-5 last Saturday by scoring a victory over Jacobs' Eagles at Algonquin.

Antioch got seven points in the third quarter to nip Jacobs 7-6 in a Northwest Suburban inter-divisional game.

KENN ROSENBROCK PLUNGED IN from one yard out and Al Moore kicked the winning point. The touchdown was set up by a fumble recovery by Antioch's Tim Huebner at the Jacobs' 13-yard line.

Jacobs scored in the fourth period when Duane Stutzman hit Bob Ulmer with a 12-yard pass. The Golden Eagles went for two points but failed to convert on a pass play.

The Eagles held their own against Antioch, out-gaining the Sequoits with 127 yards of total offense to 115. Jacobs had 97 on the ground, the Sequoits had 99 on the ground. Jacobs had nine first downs to six for Antioch.

ROSENBROCK, A JUNIOR who will be back to spark the 1977 Sequoits, had another good day, carrying the ball 21 times for 67 yards. He also returned a kickoff 18 yards.

Tom Huebner, another junior showing fine potential, picked up 22 yards in five carries.

Three pass interceptions helped Antioch hold Jacobs to six points. They were made by Rick Dauck, Al Roth and John Kakacek. Bruce Kecskemety, like Tim Huebner, recovered a Jacobs fumble to further stall the opposition.

COACH NELSON PRAISED his defense for holding Jacobs just before halftime. The Eagles reached Antioch's six, but couldn't punch it across in four tries.

The Grayslake game will be the last in Sequoit uniforms for several Antioch seniors: Tim Vander Meer, Bill Nadleffer, Kakacek, Dan Miller, Brian McGrain, Tim Murphy, Tod Ten Eyck, Bob Ducato, Doug Schreiber, Mike Brady, Harold Sokup, Rod Arion, Jerry Schmidt, Jim Peterson, Pete McCarthy, Kecskemety, Dauck and Mike Vos.

Also: Dave Zitkus, Keith Evanson, Scott Nohava, Tom Hall and John Cooper.

Nelson said his coaching staff and the players "would like to thank the girl football managers, Nancy Holm and Ellen Gall, for their time and energy during the season."

"NEXT YEAR WILL BE better," Nelson said. This year's Antioch team was loaded with junior talent. That group was unbeaten as sophomores last year and showed improvement as this season progressed. They have high hopes of really showing their stuff on Saturday when they romp on Grayslake's turf.

Grayslake is 0-8 this season after losing 21-0 to Stevenson last weekend. But Stevenson's coach had praise for Grayslake's defense.

"We gained a lot of yards but didn't turn them into points, because the Rams' defense plays well," he said.

THE BIG GAME in the northern division of the conference will be a championship clash on Friday between Warren and Woodstock. They will meet at Gurnee.

Both teams are 8-0 for the season and 4-0 in the division.

One of the reasons Antioch's record is only 3-5 is because the Sequoits had to play powerhouses like Warren, Woodstock and Stevenson, not to mention Dundee, a tough club that beat Antioch 12-6 in the season opener.

Chuck Hameau Wins In Football Contest

Wow, did the entries pour in for last week's Antioch News football contest!

The idea was to predict the outcome of Antioch's game against Jacobs.

Some thought Jacobs would win, but most of those entering picked Antioch by two or three touchdowns.

As you know, the Sequoits won by only 7-6.

Coming closest was Chuck Hameau of Rock Lake, who predicted a two-point victory for Antioch. Chuck's prize will be a $15 savings account at the State Bank of Antioch.

Earlier in the season, Chuck placed second in the contest and won a $10 gift certificate at Bernie's Deli and Happy Gas.

Antioch Runner Advances

Chuck Paulson of Antioch has qualified for the sectional high school cross-country meet. The race will be at Crystal Lake Saturday.

Paulson placed ninth in last Saturday's district meet at Zion. As a team, Antioch finished ninth in the 17-team field as Mundelein came in first.

Paulson qualified individually by placing among the top 10.

the finalists to the bone.

Conducted by Rudy Palenick, owner and operator of Rudy's Resort at the northwest corner of Lake Marie, the fishoff qualifying was held on four lakes -- Marie, Bluff, Channel and Catherine. Most anglers, however, fished Lake Marie on the final day.

Klamerus, a veteran fisherman, caught 18 fish, mostly by trolling. His largest white bass measured 10½ inches. The champion totaled 550 points (the scoring was based on 10 points for each fish caught of six inches or more and five points for each ounce of fish.)

Ron Gorka of Hanover Park was second with 350 points (12 fish); Mark Brandt of Elk Grove Village, third with 295 points (10 fish); Ted Finger of Crystal Lake, fourth with 260 points (seven fish); Ken Klamerus with 230 points, the champion's son, fifth, (eight fish).

Finger also won the "pool money" with the largest white bass, an 11½-incher.

Special Meeting

There will be a special meeting of the Board of Education of Antioch High School District 117 on Thursday, 7:30 p.m., in the board room.

The purpose of the meeting is handling student discipline.

Superintendent Warren Polley reported to the board last Thursday that the response from the staff regarding the recent Business-Education Day was very favorable. The response indicated a hope for a similar meeting in the future, Mr. Polley said.

The board approved the purchase of a type "D" fire extinguisher designed to extinguish flammable metals. This type of metal is used in chemistry and environmental science classes.
